

Nursing Clinical Practicum Agreement

1.0 Expectations from The College of Nursing

The College of Nursing agrees to the following responsibilities:

- Program Administration: Manage all administrative aspects of the clinical training program, including curriculum design, the definition of course objectives and learning outcomes, student assessment, and scheduling.
- Regulatory Compliance: Ensure strict adherence to the Training Site's established policies, regulations, and operational procedures.
- Faculty Appointment: Appoint qualified faculty members and preceptors, possessing the necessary training and experience, to plan, supervise, and evaluate student clinical practice activities.
- Stakeholder Communication: Communicate all responsibilities outlined in this agreement to students and faculty, ensuring they understand and commit to complying with the Training Site's rules and regulations.
- Operational Coordination: Supply the Training Site with specific details regarding student enrollment numbers, clinical rotation days, and training hours, as mutually agreed upon.
- Transportation Services: Arrange and provide necessary transportation for students to and from the Training Site.
- Change Notification: Promptly notify the Training Site of any modifications to faculty assignments, curriculum, or academic regulations that may impact the execution of clinical training.

2.0 Expectations from The Training Site

The Training Site agrees to the following responsibilities:

- Site Orientation: Provide comprehensive orientation for faculty regarding the Training Site's facilities, policies, regulations, and operational procedures.
- Facilitation of Learning: Support nursing student practice by providing clinical learning experiences that align with the established learning objectives and performance expectations.
- Resource Access: Grant students' permission to perform nursing care utilizing the basic supplies and equipment necessary to meet training objectives.
- Information Availability: Provide access to essential clinical information sources, such as patient records, necessary for training purposes, in strict compliance with the Training Site's policies and regulations.
- Preceptor Provision: Allocates qualified preceptors to support clinical training, subject to a formal request and mutual agreement with the College of Nursing
- Client Supervision: Maintain ultimate responsibility for the supervision, safety, and care of all clients/patients at the facility.
- Safety Intervention: Retain the authority to take immediate, temporary action regarding any student or faculty member whose conduct compromises patient safety.
- Notification Protocol: In such events, Training Site officials must promptly notify the designated University faculty member, the Assistant Dean, or the Dean of the College of Nursing.

3.0 Protection of Students

Both parties agree to the following measures to ensure student safety:

- Safe Environment: The Training Site is responsible for maintaining safe clinical practice standards for students, in accordance with its governing rules and regulations.
- Health Requirements: The College of Nursing verifies that all students meet necessary health standards, including the confirmation of Hepatitis B vaccination prior to clinical assignment.
- Incident Reporting: The faculty member assumes responsibility for reporting any clinical incidents involving students in strict accordance with the Training Site's rules, while also reporting the event to the appropriate Assistant Dean at the College.
